FOREWORD

One hundred and seventy-eight years ago the first sailing vessel on the Great Lakes passed through the Straits of Lake Erie. Built by LaSalle on the Niagara River in 1769, it was named The Griffin.

In nineteen hundred and twenty-five the students of the College of the City of Detroit selected the name of this pioneer vessel as the title for their book of the year.

For more than two decades since that time, The Griffin yearbook has appeared at Wayne University. This year the tradition is continued with the 1947 edition of the annual review in picture and prose.

DEDICATION

We dedicate this Griffin of 1947 to the realization of our plans for a greater Wayne University and to those who have striven through the years for facilities worthy of a great center of learning.

ADMINISTRATION

The President and the First Lady of the University at home.

Dr. David D. Henry
President of Wayne University

In this year of Wayne's major expansion Dr. Henry has epitomized the energetic, forward-looking spirit of the University. Meeting the problems of heavy enrollment and the challenge of the postwar period, he has at the same time continued to prepare for the demands of the future.

Dr. Henry's interest in the problems and activities of the students is familiar to all on the campus. He has taken great pleasure in his contacts with them and has given his personal support to their enterprises.

COUNCIL OF DEANS

Seated: Dean Hardy A. Kemp, Medicine; Dean Roland T. Lakey, Pharmacy; Dean Arthur Carr, Engineering; Dean Waldo E. Lessenger, Education; Dr. Wendell Vreeland, Research and Information; Dr. David D. Henry, President; Asst. Dean Robert Magee, Education; Assoc. Dean Dan Miller, Liberal Arts; Dr. John Richards, Admissions and Registration.

Standing: Dean Victor F. Spathelf, Student Affairs; Assoc. Dean William Stapleton, Medicine; Dean Walter C. Folley, Business Administration; Dr. Alden W. Thompson, Athletics.

The Council of Deans is an administrative body composed of the Deans of the several colleges. It acts as the Executive Committee of the University Council and carries into effect the rules and resolutions of that body. It deals with administrative matters under University control and has jurisdiction in matters of discipline.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI GRADUATES—1947

Alpha Sigma Phi, at its centennial convention in Marietta, Ohio, on September 6, 1946, announced completion of arrangements for consolidation with Alpha Kappa Pi. Similar action was taken on the same date at its convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Alpha Sigma Phi, founded at Yale College, December 6, 1845, is the tenth oldest Greek-letter college fraternity and now ranks fourteenth in number of chapters. Under the terms of the consolidation there are now over 60 active chapters.

This union of the two national fraternities transformed the former Alpha Zeta Chapter of Alpha Kappa Pi at Wayne to Beta Tau Chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi. This consolidation was formally consummated for Beta Tau Chapter at an installation banquet held February 15th at the University Club on East Jefferson, Detroit.

Speakers at the banquet included Alpha Sig alumni: Mayor Jeffries, Judge Krause, Councilman Oakman and the national executive secretary of Alpha Sigma Phi, Ralph Burns. President Henry and Dean Spothelf of Wayne also extended the university's felicitations.

Alpha Sigma Phi members active on Wayne's campus include Ed Bailey, president of the Mackenzie Union Board of Governors; John Gregg, chairman of the Mackenzie Union Activities Council; Fred Johnson, director of the men's show, "Life With Tartar"; and Doug Trites, member of the All-American Swimming Team from Wayne.

The Art Education Club maintains numerous and extensive community connections from which its club sponsors are chosen. Sponsors change currently as students widen their teacher-training experiences and establish new contacts with other community agencies.

Special projects for 1946-47 included the annual Christmas Show and Sale and the publication of the Art Almanac in conjunction with the Alumni Club.

The Art Education Club is a local professional organization. Its purpose is to extend the students scope of interest in art as related to education in school and community.

NOVEMBER

TODAY

Governor Horry F. Kelly, assisted by Dean Arthur Neef, turned the first silver spadeful of dirt for the Student Center on Tuesday, November 3, 1946. The Ground-Breaking Ceremony was witnessed by students and faculty, and marked the beginning of a new era in Wayne's history. The $900,000 classroom center is the first building to be erected in the proposed $2,700,000 building program.

Speakers at the dedication ceremony included Governor Kelly, Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, Jr., David D. Henry, University President, Arthur Neef, Dean of the Law School, and Cora Tombaugh, Vice-President of the Student Council.

Attending the ceremonies were John Ballenger, Police Commissioner, George Edwards, City Council President, Albert F. Cobo, City Treasurer, Dr. Burt R. Shurly, and Mrs. Laura Osborn, Member of the Board of Education, and Edgar G. Whitcomb, Arts Commission president.

HOME TARTARS

At noon on November 16, the homecoming extravaganza flowed into Detroit's streets as a gala procession of floats from twenty-seven campus organizations paraded to Keyworth Stadium. Rain failed to discourage students in their display of decorative talent as the parade originating on Wayne Boulevard, complete with police escort, streamed along Cass to Keyworth Stadium and the Wayne-Case game.

The Sophomore Class was awarded a gold cup by float judges: George Edwards, David D. Henry, President of Wayne, and Patricia Neal, for the most originally designed float. Judges' spirits weren't dampened either as they viewed this artistry moving onward to the stadium and a 37-6 Wayne victory.

MESSIAH

A Christmas tradition on campus, Handel's oratorio, The Messiah, is presented by Wayne's music department at Masonic Temple for the seventeenth consecutive year. Under the able direction of Harold H. Tallman, the chorus is composed of over five hundred voices representing the University chorus, the A Capella choir, and the Alumni chorus. This year, Metropolitan vocalists Richard Bonelli, Bass; Donald Dame, Tenor; Martha Lipton, contralto; and soprano, Hilda Ohlin, oratoria singer, appeared as guest soloists for the production. The Wayne University Symphony Orchestra, composed of seventy members, accompanied chorus and soloists.

FASHION SHOWS AND LUNCHEONS

"Going Up," the third annual fashion review sponsored by the Collegian, A.W.S., and the Mackenzie Union, was presented this year in the lecture hall of the Art Institute. Male and female mannequins set out to prove that the right clothes can create a new Wayne personality.

For their final activity of the fall semester, home economics majors presented a Parent-Faculty party at the Home Management House. A luncheon and exchanging of gifts highlighted the afternoon's activities.

FIRST JANUARY GRADUATION

Approximately 450 graduates received degrees this year at Wayne University's first mid-year commencement exercises at Mosanic Temple.

Dr. John R. Emens, President of Ball State Teachers College and member of President Truman's commission on the emergency in higher education, addressed the graduates. In addition to the main speaker, Dr. A. Douglas Jamieson, president of the Detroit Board of Education, and Dr. David D. Henry, president of Wayne University, participated in the program. The Reverend Frederick H. Oler, of the First Presbyterian Church, led the invocation and benediction.

Music for the program was provided by the Wayne University Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Associate Professor James A. Gibb.

IN JANUARY

June Simes, senior, was elected Wayne's Snow Queen. June proved to be a super-monarch, winning the title of Miss Michigan Snow Queen at the contest held January 25-26 at Grayling.

Selected as January's Boy and Girl of the Month are Bart Ford and Fayette Singer. Bart is one of Wayne's most active students on campus. He is a member of the Executive Board of W.U.V.A. and in this capacity went to Washington, D.C., appearing before the Veterans' Affairs Committee to solicit passage of the Rogers' Bill. Vice-President of the Newman Club and chairman of the Academic Freedom Committee are also numbered among Bart's many campus activities.

Fayette Singer is president of the Student Council and former Vice-President of N.A.A.C.P. Active on campus as Fayette is, she still maintains the honor point average which merits her election as the girl of the month for January.

BASKETBALL

Coach Newman Ertell (right), after 22 years of piloting Wayne basketball squads, ran into one of his most disastrous cage seasons. At the beginning, the outlook was good. The mammoth Coliseum was to be the scene of every home game, the schedule was tough but good and the individual players looked fine. Somehow, though, the team lacked necessary coordination at the proper time and the Tartars dropped 15 contests while winning three.

William "Rip" Collins emerges from a bevy of Ohio hoopsters to scare a basket, as Dick Hall and Jack Levitt await a possible rebound from the backboard. In the background are some of the student section.

It looks like an odogia a la hardwood, but there's na use searching far the ball. It was there at the time though, and Naah Brawn af Wayne (number 22) isn't trying to fly.

SHOTS

The basketball campaign took on a monotonous aspect by February 22nd. The squad had dropped 12 contests and had won a single game. The University of Detroit was waiting on the Lincoln High School gym floor to add "unlucky" 13 to the dismal records, when the Tartars came through in the final seconds of play to pull a 49-47 upset.

Then Wayne played host to the Titans in the Coliseum for the hoop finale on March 8th. Another victory, this time 58-47, sent the city rivals into despairing depths and brought the Tartars into a fairly successful mood, as the victory tied the annual series at five games apiece.

Wayne finished at the bottom of the first Mid-American Conference season ratings, which ended in a Butler-Cincinnati tie for first place. Ohio was third and Western Reserve topped the Tartars by winning one more game than the Green and Gold.

TRACK TIDINGS

November 16th was a big day for the Mid-American Conference when the Warren Valley Country Club grounds were selected as the site of the first championship meet between the conference schools. Cross country was the sport and Wayne was the winner. James Cline of Butler was first to finish the four mile run, but the all-freshman Tartar squad surprised dubious prognosticators to win the first annual championship.

Lorenzo Wright, low hurdle and dash man, won the 1947 Central Collegiate broad-jump event and is the new titleholder. Stan Simons won merits for his high jump marks and George Sayles fared well on the high hurdles.

Joseph Dudley leads Lorenzo Wright by a half step (above) as the two prepared to represent Wayne in the AAU meet in Madison Square Gardens. Dudley is rated with the leading quarter milers in the nation, placing sixth in the national match in New York.

GUESS WHAT

That long, slow, grind called registration became more efficient as the staff moved into the Women's Gym. Enrollment for the term topped 14,000. 7,071 Ex-G.I.'s insisted that the "battle of the bulge" was nothing compared to the rigors of registration. Reservations for science and art classes in January eased the wait for class cards.

THE WAYNE UNIVERSITY BAND

The Wayne University Band has had a full year of programs and performances that has seen them in action at athletic events, concerts, radio broadcasts, and numerous university and community functions. Particularly outstanding were the annual campus Christmas Concert, and the "Michigan Unlimited" radio series of Sunday afternoon concerts over station WJR. The concerts, first since pre-war days, are sponsored by the University in conjunction with the Michigan State Historical Society. Culminating the season's events was the tenth annual Spring Concert held in Detroit's Music Hall at which Morton Gould was featured as guest conductor.

SWIMMING

Leo Maas, who has become one of the most respected swimming coaches in the nation since he joined Wayne in 1939, has spent most of the season rebuilding the notators into another outstanding inter-collegiate group, after the let-down in the war years.

Robert Knorr sailed through the ozone to help bring defeat upon the University of Detroit in a dual meet.

The squad captured second place in the Central Collegiate Conference meet in East Lansing, to nose out Cincinnati by one point.

Divers, Joe Mroczna and Knorr; distance men, Doug Trites and Arnald Pylkus; Ray Niver, Sande Sinkiewicz, Bob Nelson, Bob Clark, Harold Krause, Roy Pauliot, Bob Pugsley and Ray Mandra gave the Tortors a good start toward reconstruction of a powerful team.

After dropping the Michigan State and Iowa State matches, the swimmers came back to defeat U. of D. twice and to lose to Michigan.

MARCH

WAYNE'S WEBSTER

A group of thirty-five nurses studying under the Federal Training Program provided the vanguard for student occupation of Wayne's Webster Hall. Alterations on the building which are to be completed this year, will provide five hundred rooms and residence for eight-hundred to one thousand students. Mr. James Hamilton is manager for the building.

These co-eds are the first of the students to give their address as Webster Hall. Moving in bag and baggage, they are cramming the space allotted for storage, not in immediate use, with trunks and cases.

BASEBALL

With nearly a full squad returning from his 1946 team, Coach Joe Truskowski will be seeking to give Wayne a winning baseball season this year for the first time in the school's history.

Leading the squad as it opened practice in the men's gym early in March, was catcher Bill Collins, who last year played in the East-West College All-Star game in Boston. Others who are counted upon to aid the Tartars in their quest for a good season are Ron Teasley, Jim Neubacher, Roy Stevens, Joe Rzepka, George Shuk, and John Hoover.

Opening with the University of Michigan on April 18, Wayne played University of Detroit, Michigan State, Western Reserve, Ohio University, Butler, Cincinnati, Hillsdale, and Toledo

IN MARCH . . .

Committeemen plan for the Interfraternity Ball, sponsored annually by the nineteen local and national fraternities on campus. Held in the Fountain Room of the Masonic Temple, the Ball featured the music of Bob Chester and his orchestra. Highlighting the intermission, Phi Sigma Epsilon and Shah fraternities competed in the Interfraternity Sing finals. Pictured here are Byron Traeger, Dwight Wheeler, Graham Porter, Stewart Hetu, James Brennan, Robert Steen, Phil Chase, and Bernard Nagel.

Selected as the Boy and Girl of the Month for March were Dick Hall and M. Jean George. Dick specializes in athletics on campus, being high-point man on the Varsity Basketball Team and was on the All-State Team for 1945-46. Jean concentrates her energies on the Wayne University Broadcasting Guild and the Wayne University Theatre. She is also a member of Delta Gamma Chi Sorority and Gold Key.

LINKSTER LINES

Coach Lawrence E. Russel, about to sink a hole-in-one through a basketball hoop in the gym, had most of his 1946 lettermen returning to the links this year. After dropping their first four matches on a southern trip last spring, the golfers found stability and finished the schedule with seven victories and nine losses.

Expected to emerge with more triumphs than defeats, the 1947 team started its dual play with Michigan State on April 26th. Some of the varsity members are pictured below:

NETTER NOTES

After 14 years of Tartar tennis tutoring, with 139 victories and 50 defeats, Coach Norman G. Wann (left) still has an eye on the future. 1942 was the only season that any of his squads have fallen below the .500 mark. Last spring the racketeers won ten and lost three, to be ranked as thirteenth strangest in the nation.

GOING UP

Wayne students leaving their modern cathedral of learning via the elevator at Maccabee Building.

Classes go sky high this semester. With the renting of the fifteenth floor of the Maccabee Building, Wayne finds more of that much needed space to relieve overcrowded classroom conditions. Professors' only comments are that transport planes and pigeons are a distracting influence to students. P.S. Elevator service to all floors.

Getting their heads together, the committee for the Inter-Sorority Ball makes plans for one of the season's newest social functions. Formerly, sororities planned their annual ball in conjunction with the Inter-Fraternity Council. Held in April, the Ball this year established another precedent—male escorts were invited by the sorority gals. Pictured here are Betie Weinberg, Shirley Johnson, Lillian Larsen, Gloria Bailey, Lorraine Zussman, Angeline Blanco, Betty Johnson.

People of the month for April are Gloria Bailey and Robert Brown. Gloria is president of the Inter-Sorority Council and a member of Xi Omicron Sorority. She was a committee chairman on the A. W. S. Executive Board and the Senior Board.

THE GRIFFIN

Doris Lemke, Editor.

The theme of this yearbook of 1947 has been the parade of events at Wayne over the pages of the calendar from September through June. This plan has been followed in general with the exception of seniors and organizations which are presented alphabetically throughout the book.

The preparation of the 1947 Griffin has meant a great deal of work for all the staff but the experiences and associations have been valuable and enjoyable.

We present the product of our efforts with the hope that it will meet with the approval of the campus community and will awaken pleasant memories in the years to come.

WOMEN'S SPORTS ACTIVITIES

Under the sponsorship of the Women's Athletic Association, with a campus-wide membership, women's sports activities continue throughout the year, giving specialized training in numerous sports and hobbies.

Pictured on this page is one phase of the varied program offered, which includes swimming, golf, volleyball, basketball, folk-dancing, interpretative dancing, and tennis, as well as regular health training work.

Archery is one of the most popular sports in the health education program. Calling for a considerable display of muscular strength and coordination, it is a challenge to the modern Diano. Here are two photographs of archery enthusiasts who apparently have mastered the bow.

NO COMPETITION ? . . . THERE'S PLENTY OF IT

More than any other private business, the utility is in direct and continuous competition with the theories and, in some sections of the United States, with the works of those who would turn private business into government business.

The Detroit Edison Company competes for your business in your home, because there is nothing which compels the use of electricity exclusively in the operation of many household appliances.

Industries are free to build plants for the manufacture of their own electric power, and a few have done so.

Because of the existence of real competition, The Detroit Edison Company is required to produce so efficiently that the industrialist cannot afford to generate his own power.

Detroit Edison is required to serve the home so well that its occupants will PREFER electricity.

Beyond all this is the ever-present fact that our customers—you, the householder, the farmer, the merchant and the manufacturer—expect nothing less than the BEST from The Detroit Edison Company. We are in constant competition with that standard of price, dependability and service which you fix for us—with your idea of what Detroit Edison should be.

Upon our ability to meet that competition depends our right to survive and prosper.

Direct competition by another electric company is eliminated by law as a matter of public policy. That policy permits exercise of the economies of mass purchases and mass production without wasteful duplications. The safeguards of public regulation are combined with the enterprise and efficiency of private management.

The objective and the result—extraordinary service at reasonable cost.
